

Save on healthcare with an employer-funded health reimbursement arrangement.

Pay for certain medical expenses not covered by your health insurance plan with an excepted benefit health reimbursement arrangement (EBHRA).

How does an EBHRA work?

An EBHRA is a reimbursement account set up and funded by your employer that helps you pay for qualified medical expenses incurred throughout the plan year.

How will I benefit from an EBHRA?

An EBHRA is designed to help offset out-of-pocket financial responsibilities associated with your healthcare. The funds in the account can be used to pay for eligible out-of-pocket medical expenses such as copays, deductibles, dental insurance, vision insurance and long-term care coverage.

The money your employer contributes to the account is not included in your salary and is not considered taxable income.

How do I use my EBHRA to pay for healthcare expenses?

Helpful hints

- Your employer puts money into your EBHRA, which can be used to pay for eligible medical expenses.
- Contributions made by your employer are excluded from your gross income and not taxable.
- The funds in the account are available on the first day of the plan year.
- Save your receipts when you spend your EBHRA dollars. You may need itemized invoices to verify the eligibility of expenses or for reimbursement requests.
- The easiest way to manage your account is online at www.amben.com/wealthcare or through the WealthCare Mobile.
- Funds that remain in your EBHRA at the end of the plan year may be carried over to the next year.
